IMPACT AND SOCIAL TRANSFORMATION

Elo Social and Environmental Support is a civil institution that has, since 2001, brought together the commitment, strength and knowledge to transform life-stories. And for us, the story of each adolescent and young person who finds him/herself socially at risk is very important! For this reason, in 2020 we reinvented and overcame challenges which seemed insurmountable, we loved and cared even more for each apprentice, partner, volunteer, donator and member of this incredible team, dedicated to change the world, one life-story at a time.

Amidst the challenges of COVID-19, we followed all the guidance given by the World Health Organization (WHO) and we outstretched our arms even more. However, this time, virtually. For the training rooms, now online, we brought knowledge to all the community, bringing weekly to each distinct area of our professional social networks information about relevant and opportune topics during a delicate time for all. It is with happiness and enormous gratitude to all the young boys and girls, supporters, professionals, companies and volunteers who have been with us, that we share here the achievements and social impact brought by Elo in 2020.

SDO 1. ERADICATE POVERTY

The development of citizens and professionals, and provision of a path towards work by means of Elo projects, assists directly in the increase in the income of supported families and contributes towards the reduction of poverty.

ELO VALUES: Love for those around you and Social and Environmental Responsibility

SDO 4. EDUCATION AND QUALITY

Aligning theory and practical experience with a focus on results and human and professional excellence.

ELO VALUES: Purpose and passion

SDO 5. EQUALITY AND GENDER

The promotion of equality and gender guides Elo projects, both in the daily life of the apprentices and in the implementation of the first working group for the Project "Sowing Hope", aimed at the development of skills and competencies for young women in situations of risk (in 2019). By means of internal management, it is possible to train co-workers towards qualification, professionalism and developing potential and empowerment.

ELO VALUES: Love for those around you, Purpose and Passion

SDO 8. DIGNIFIED WORK AND ECONOMIC GROWTH

Dignified work is guaranteed by means of the "Project Planting the Future" (PPF), based on the apprenticeship law, aligning theory and practice, human values and technical content. By means of corporate partnerships, Elo contributes towards economic growth and professionalism.

ELO VALUES: Social and environmental responsibility, Purpose and passion

SDO 10. REDUCE INEQUALITY

By means of the "Project Planting Hope" (PPH) Elo contributes to the reduction of social inequality by developing personal skills and competencies, incentivising self-esteem, self-awareness and preparing for life adolescents and young people who are socially vulnerable. Elo also reduces inequality by means of the employability of apprentices with its "Project Planting the Future" (PPF).

ELO VALUES: Respect and Love for those around you

SDO 16. PEACE, JUSTICE AND EFFECTIVE INSTITUTIONS

Since 2001 Elo has practised a culture of peace, justice and transparency. Elo received rewards and certificates from diverse institutions that recognized its practical management work and how it guarantees healthy growth, ethics and commitment towards people and the planet.

ELO VALUES: Faith, Social and Environmental Responsibility, Ethics and Transparency

SDO 17. PARTNERSHIPS TO IMPLEMENT THE OBJECTIVES

Elo, in partnership with organizations from the three sectors, contributes to the implementation of SDO by means of the development of human values and employability for adolescents and young people, sustainability actions, collaborative management, incentives towards culture, transparency and ethics.

ELO VALUES: Faith, Social and Environmental Responsibility, Ethics, Transparency and Thankfulness

In 2020 Elo received for the fourth year running the award "Sesi SDO".

PROJECT PLANTING HOPE

Cases of truancy and being behind in school in the case of adolescents and young people in situations of social risk are substantially greater among low-income families that are confronting situations of social risk. In 2018, 11.8% of young people in situations of poverty had abandoned school in this country, according to data of the Summary of Social Indicators of 2019.

Without preparation and education, it is common for these adolescents and young people to look for informal work to generate income. In the large majority of cases, these activities contribute little to their intellectual development. Furthermore, they can be exposed to physical and psychological risks.

Since 2008 the Project Planting Hope aims for the possibility that these adolescents and young people, in a situation of social risk, develop their skills and competencies that promote self-awareness, self-esteem, individual talents and potential and inclusion in the world of work, in a secure, healthy and honourable manner.

The methodology for Planting Hope includes exercises and the dynamics of sensitivity and practical activities based on the 4 pillars of education: Learning to Get to know, Learning to Do, Learning to live with others and learning to be.

The focus here is not 'to achieve a job for adolescents', but to create a real opportunity for personal development. The objective is to strengthen skills, self-esteem, provide opportunities and learning so that the young people become key players.

The Project takes place with the support of companies, groups, volunteers and the community. Partnerships provide space, materials, snacks and transport to participants and voluntary instructors.

It is also possible to make donations in kind, in materials and in the routing of PERSONAL AND CORPORATE INCOME TAX to support the project.

"Project Hope already says a lot by its name...Participating and getting to know the project in depth, I could see the importance that "a simple look" of love achieves for young people. This project promotes education, human development, social inclusion and empowerment of young people who are socially vulnerable....Leading to the hope that, yes, they can be what they want!!! It was an enormous pleasure to be part of this development of young people into key players!!!"

PROJECT PLANTING THE FUTURE

Plantando Futuro

Around 10.5 million Brazilian young people were not found in the official work market, nor were they studying, according to data collected in 2019 by the Brazilian Institute of Geography and Statistics (IBGE). The pandemic made the situation even more serious and, in the first quarter of 2020 the rate of unemployment among young people between 18 and 24 was 27.1%.

This reality hit even harder adolescents and young people who were already confronting structural conditions of inequality, marked by race and social class. Factors such as location, where they live and lack of adequate qualifications increase the gulf between them and the official work market.

The Project Planting the Future, which since 2004 has been creating the possibility for these young people to become key players in life, by means of educational development and employability, multiplied its efforts in 2020. By means of the Apprentice Programme, 970 adolescents and young people in social risk participated in the project which, with a duration of 16 months, offers 400 hours of professional development in Administration or Logistics, with the emphasis on Sustainability, and 880 hours of practical work with Elo partner companies. The initiative guarantees educational development and income for the young people and their families.

"It is with much joy for me and my Family that I am an apprentice. I am becoming an adult, I have my responsibilities, I have received my first salary and I have managed to help my family. This is really good. Now I know what I want for my life and what path I want to follow."

Deivid Marques dos Santos (18 anos),
Elo apprentice at the Red Cross Hospital.

"In these twelve years recruiting young people to the apprentice programme here in the hospital, I consider that the programme is a landmark in a young person's career. Not only having observed the development here of our apprentices throughout the programme, but also having known candidates coming from other similar programmes, from other institutions. Beyond technical development, the methodology permits a young person to develop other competencies that stand out in the general process of selection. I am used to saying that, if someone was an apprentice and completed the programme, the young person is "almost" contracted. The experience has demonstrated that a successful apprentice is on course to success."

Paulo Rosa,
Recruitment and Selection Psychologist at the Red Cross Hospital, partner company of Elo in the contracting of apprentices.

"I see transformation in my daughter after starting the project. Every day she explains to me what she is learning and she really is learning a lot. The qualification will transform her professional life a lot from now onwards. And we can participate in her transformation, which is developing an adult with a knowledge much greater than those of the same age as her and is changing a lot my family's view of her development."

Clevison de Andrade,
father of Sabrina
Elen de Andrade, Elo apprentice at Apex Latin America.

RECOGNITION AND AWARDS

PEX/VOA CERTIFICATE 2020

In 2019 Elo was one of 52 organizations in Brazil selected to participate in VOA. This is a mentoring and training programme in management from AMBEV. After months reviewing and restructuring all the processes in our institution, we were selected to participate in the 2nd phase of the VOA Excellence Programme, PEX 2020.

In order to increase our team's knowledge of the tools for management and automation of our work processes, Elo had the support of three VOA mentors (AMBEV employees who were volunteers on the programme), who dedicated themselves tirelessly in preparing us to reach even higher.

The work on strategic management and implementation of tools, developed in the institution throughout 2020 was presented to the final PEX audit team, from which Elo was approved with excellence.

Among the tools developed this year and submitted for analysis by the audit team were: Plan for Emergency Actions (PEA), Plan for the Attraction of Resources and Communication, the restructuring of the Elo organization structure and the description of roles and salaries.

SESI SDO AWARD

Elo received the Sesi SDO award 2020, in recognition of the work in guaranteeing the rights of adolescents and young people during Covid-19.

To mitigate the enormous impact of the pandemic, Elo developed a PEA, reduced costs and searched for new sources of income to maintain its financial sustainability, implemented online training for young people, guaranteed more than 360 jobs and implemented weekly live streaming on Instagram about the organization, with relevant content around mental health and increasing social impact.

The Sesi SDO award recognizes industry, companies, public institutions, civil organizations and public and private teaching institutions that are working towards reaching the Development Objectives. In this edition, those organizations were recognized that had taken on the role of key player in the achievement of good practice in the prevention of Covid-19.

DONATION AWARD

In December Elo was approved by the audit process of the Criteria for the Donation Award 2020-23, being qualified as an organization certified with Award A+. This means that Elo now forms part of a select group of Brazilian organizations independently certified as having achieved the minimum standard of quality defined by the Donation Institute, based on the main, international models of certification for civil organizations.

52 criteria were evaluated, organized in eight important categories:

- Cause and Strategy
- Governance
- Accounting and Finance
- Management
- Human Resources
- Strategy and Financing
- Communication
- Provision of accounts and transparency

Elo achieved 50 of the 52 defined criteria.

This certification is another example of how Elo executes its processes in a committed and transparent manner, proving to be one of the most trustworthy organizations in the country.

MANAGEMENT CHANGES

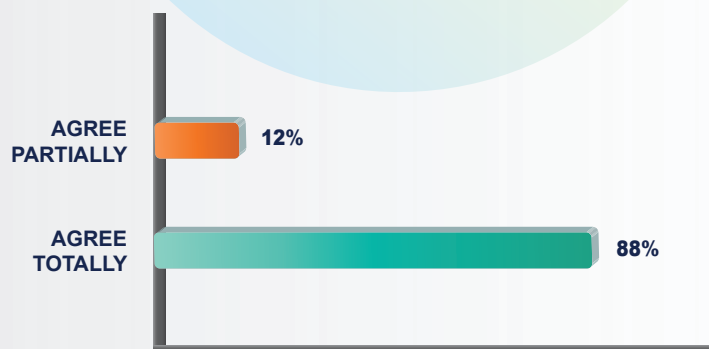

The intense work undertaken in the area of management in 2020 included actions and tools that guaranteed Elo's sustainability during the year and security for the institution's next journey. Among the tools and actions developed were:

- Strategic Planning
- Plan for Emergency Actions (PEA)
- Implementation of the plan "Regular Donation"
- Plan for the Attraction of Resources
- Communication Plan
- Functional descriptions
- Performance Evaluation
- Climate Research

Climate Research, undertaken between the months of September and November 2020 form the basis for improving even more the Elo environment and strengthening work focused on social impact with the mission and vision towards social transformation.

There follow two responses from collaborators that demonstrate the positive and healthy climate within Elo:

"I FEEL THAT MY WORK HAS MEANING"

To be satisfied at work means increased fluidity in our processes, empathy and leads to the positive impact of our results.

"I FEEL SATISFIED WORKING AT ELO"

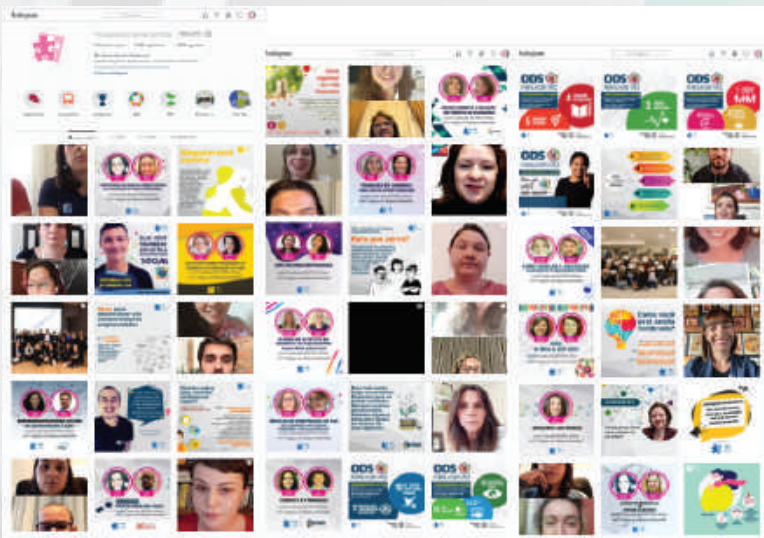

To feel purpose in work means that activities are undertaken with more motivation and the results have meaning and passion.

COMMUNICATION AND IMPACT EXPANSION

Faced with the onslaught of the pandemic, which forced us to be distant from the adolescents and young people supported by Elo, their families and the whole community, we increased our impact in a virtual format.

During the year, 40 live streaming sessions were made on Instagram and Facebook. Carefully chosen, the themes chosen addressed the pertinent questions being experienced by our young people, their families and other people and organizations who follow or came to follow Elo on its social networks.

Rosane Fontoura

(Sociologist and Executive Coordinator of the Paranaense Council for the Entrepreneurial Citizen) participated in the live stream: SDO – THE NEXT BIG THING.

Allan Mohr

(Master in psychology and university teacher at FAE) participated in the live stream: WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THE STRUGGLE?

Eliane Catalano

(Selection Coordinator at Rh Nossa) participated in the live stream: RECRUITMENT AND SELECTION IN TIMES OF PANDEMIC

Beyond the 40 live streams undertaken, the institution's numbers increased significantly in 2020.

Understanding better the actions taken to reduce costs in 2020:

Due to the pandemic, Elo put into action a Plan of Emergency Actions (PEA), with more than 40 actions aimed at adapting in face of the new challenges, including measures to reduce costs, in order to guarantee financial sustainability in 2020.

Measures were adopted such as: renegotiation of contracts and payment terms with suppliers, the administrative team worked from home with a reduction in working day and salary; the team of instructors undertook training online with an adjustment to the timetable of lessons; cessation of the purchase of various office materials and building costs, among others. These initiatives led to a reduction of around 32% in monthly costs, resulting in a saving of R$165,000 during the year 2020.

TOTAL OF VOLUNTARY WORK HOURS UNDERTAKEN IN ELO IN 2020: 155 HOURS.
